The Center for East Asian Studies (CEAS) endeavors to broaden the East Asian focus in interdisciplinary scholarship for which UChicago is famous by supporting a wide range of graduate fellowships, events, and faculty research initiatives. Our activities support training in East Asian studies and languages across an array of disciplines and professional schools on campus. Through conferences, graduate workshops, film screenings and public lectures, CEAS promotes intellectual exchange among East Asia scholars across departments and disciplines. Our faculty and programs in East Asian studies regularly achieve the highest rankings among peer institutions in the United States, making East Asian Studies at the University of Chicago an invaluable national resource and a focal point for East Asian Studies in the Midwest.

Student fellowships, faculty research, and a wide range of events form the core of the Center’s activities. For more information about graduate fellowships—including conference travel grants, pre-dissertation research grants, and other offerings—visit our website http://ceas.uchicago.edu and click on the ‘Grants and Fellowships’ tab.

CEAS’ East Asian Film Library is the largest such collection in North America, containing over 6,800 titles from Japan, Korea, and China. It is particularly strong in independent film, documentaries, WWII issues, LGBTQ in East Asia, Japanese Group Sounds, anime, Korean dramas, and Chinese Opera. The Film Library is free for UChicago student, staff, or faculty use.

More information about all of our initiatives, including current and upcoming events, job openings in the field, and our quarterly lunches, can be found at http://ceas.uchicago.edu.
